over the past three decades studies investigating heritage speaker's linguistic competencies have shown time and again that despite being 11 or 211 native speakers of their home language, s/he's outcomes display variation across a wide spectrum of differences as compared to each other, other types of bilinguals as well as their monolingual peers. Studies have traditionally used mostly behavioral methodologies rooted in adjacent established fields e.g. L1 acquisition, adult L2 acquisition, offering in addition to documenting and describing his performance important insights for linguistic theory and challenges related to home minority language maintenance, contact policy and more. A bird's eye view makes it clear that the methodologies one uses to tap into these linguistic knowledge areas if not more are important than the phenomena under investigation especially in light of how their unique experiences with their heritage and other languages are present across a continuum.

Backyard Poultry Medicine and Surgery is a practical resource offering guidance on developing diagnostic and treatment plans for individual companion poultry or small flocks organized by body system to aid in developing a differential diagnosis list for common presenting signs. The book provides all the information clinicians need to effectively treat backyard poultry written by experts from both the commercial poultry field and the companion avian field. The book provides thorough coverage of both common and less common diseases of backyard chickens, ducks, and other poultry. The book begins with introductory chapters covering general information, an overview of US laws and basic husbandry concerns, then moves into specific disease chapters organized by system. The book takes an individual medicine perspective throughout with photographs, radiographs, and histopathological photomicrographs to illustrate principles and diseases. Backyard Poultry Medicine and Surgery is an invaluable guide to diseases and treatments for any practitioners treating backyard poultry.
